My dear sir,

I am very grateful to you for your kind thought of me and securing for me as free gifts the valued archaeological publications of the state - One favour shown leads to demand for more favours and I hope you will excuse me if I apply again for your aid in securing for my two publications, 'The History of Indian shipping' and "The Fundamental Unity of India" ; the patronage of the Mysore government - The former took cost for its production £300/- and the latter £150 - The Baroda state bought 50 copies of the former work and an account of the British government's patronage is given in the pamphlet sent herewith - Books like mine don't pay their way and this is my excuse for this application -

Thanking you again for your kind remembrance which is a matter of pride to me

I remain
yours sincerely
